MARCH 1987

be possible?

ABOUT THE COVER AND THIS ISSUE:

You will notice that issue of the Corvairsation does not meet the normally high standards that you have become used to. There are no tech articles, no up-coming events listed, and its not as thick as it normally is. This issue is not too much unlike the newsletters that we receive from a lot of other Corvair clubs around the country. Do you like it?

We all have our own ways of showing other people when we don't like something. Some of us stand up put up a fight, some of us protest by picketting or what-ever, but most of us don't do anything. Oh, we know we don't like it, but if we wait long enough somebody else will do something about it. I guess this newsletter is my way of "protesting". I am the editor and I can do whatever I want with the newsletter, especially when there is no leadership to direct me in what I do.

I promise you the next issue will be back to its good old self, but please stop and think about this issue for a couple of minutes and the message that it's trying to get across.

The Editor.

TCA HAS NO PRESIDENT!!!!

It's hard to believe that we just held elections and not one person among us was willing to take a turn at being President of TCA for a year. Our membership is presently at around 60 and TCA is only 10 years old and nobody has ever been President more than once, so that means that there are 50 people in the club that could take a turn in the barrel and really closer to 60 because the only person that is not eligible to take the post is Don Robinson. So, my question is: WHY ISN'T THERE ONE PERSON WHO WOULD TAKE THE JOB OF PRESIDENT??? Does TCA mean that little to us? Are we just all going to stand around with our hands in our pockets and let TCA die? I realize that we only take one year at a time, but what about next year? Shall we just all pay our dues into a Corvairsation fund so that we can at least have a news letter? Maybe we should pick one night a month when we all get together and eat pizza. I really don't think we need the mid-month activities anyhow - only a handful of people ever show up and their too much work to organize. Looking at it that way, maybe we really don't need a President. Yea, that's it!

I'll be at the next meeting and I'm going to push for no organized government for TCA. I'm going to rewrite the By-Laws for approval at next Board Meeting. I'm sure they'll be approved because only a couple of people will be there. And then we'll present them for approval at the April club meeting. So if you like this great, super-doooper idea, be at the next meeting to lend support. If you don't think it's such a hot idea (and I really hope you don't), show up at the next meeting and do something about it!

Every year we have the same problem. There are just a handful of folks that are will to spend a little time to get anything done. I wish I knew what caused it. I suppose if I did I could be rich and famous. Looking at some clubs' newsletters you can a lot of times see club elections as being very competitive for the office of president. Can you believe that? All I know is that here we were one day with a healthy club and now it's very sick. I remember one year we had a similar problem and Ed Sanford stood up and said that either we were going to have a president or shut TCA down. People listened to him. The result was we left the meeting with a president who did a fine job for that year. Come on folks, I enjoy doing the Corvairsation and I want to be able to continue doing it for a long time. I promise you one thing: if there's no TCA there won't be a Corvairsation.

Sincerely,

Van Pershing, Editor
